NABC GROWER MEMBERSHIP INFORMATION

With market development and research activities now the responsibility of the U.S. Highbush Blueberry Council (USHBC), the North American Blueberry Council (NABC) has assumed the important role of acting as a voice for the highbush blueberry industry.

The NABC continues to provide members with market information and support, services provided to NABC members since 1965. For more information, please contact the NABC at 916-983-2279.

To encourage increased participation, and to offer services to as many members of the highbush blueberry industry as possible, the NABC has modified membership requirements and assessment rates.

Full NABC grower membership is open to all highbush blueberry growers from the United States, Canada and Mexico, regardless of their level of production. With this modification, current industry members who have previously held NABC membership through an affiliation with an NABC regular member, such as a co-op or commission, can now apply for their own individual membership in the NABC.

Membership of the NABC shall consist of Co-operatives, Corporations, Commissions created by State or Provincial law, Councils, current and prospective blueberry growers, blueberry handlers acting on behalf of highbush blueberry growers, and other organizations or individuals involved in blueberry production.

The dues structure offers the opportunity for full NABC membership to those growers who produce less than the 250,000-pound per year level established under original NABC membership requirements.

The revised NABC grower membership dues are currently based on yearly production at the following levels:

Yearly Production	NABC Yearly Dues
100,000 pounds or less	$ 100
100,001 lbs. to 250,000 lbs.	$ 250
250,001 lbs. to 500,000 lbs.	$ 500
500,001 lbs. to 1,000,000 lbs.	$1,000
1,000,001 pounds or more	$2,000
Co-Op or Commission Members	$2,000

Grower member benefits include market information and support as well as the opportunity to become involved in the industry and share your interests and concerns with fellow industry members.

NABC Grower Members receive:

Application Process

To apply for membership, please complete the attached form and return it to the following address:

The North American Blueberry Council
1847 Iron Point Road, Suite #100
Folsom, California 95630

Upon receipt, your application will be submitted to the NABC Executive Committee for initial review. If approved by the committee, the application will be presented to the full board for consideration at the next NABC meeting. The board will take the final vote on acceptance at that time. Upon initial approval of the Executive Committee, your name will be immediately placed on the NABC mailing list and you will receive mailings on a temporary basis pending final board approval.

We hope you will consider joining our organization. Your investment in the NABC now and in the future will help us to continue funding activities designed to create increased awareness of highbush blueberries and help to maintain a positive sales environment to the benefit of our blueberry growers and those who supply them. If you have any questions or would like additional information, please contact our office. Our phone number is 916-983-2279 and our fax number is 916-983-9370. Additional information can also be found on the NABC website at www.nabcblues.org.
